Police search for gunman

Fast Max clerk robbed Tuesday night

By BECKY BARNES, Editor
A Cynthiana gas station was robbed at gunpoint Tuesday night. According to Ptl. Lewis Crump III, a gunman walked into Fast Max on U.S. 27 South about 11:30 p.m. and demanded cash. Crump said the clerk had his back to the door while taking inventory of cigarettes as he was preparing to close for the night. The man entered the store and pointed the gun at the clerk. The clerk handed over the money without incident. After viewing security footage, Crump said it was determined the 6-foot-tall white man approached the store from the north. As he fled, he headed south. Crump said it has not been determined if there was a waiting vehicle behind the station or if the robber fled on foot. "We're pretty sure he had a vehicle, but there was none in front of the station that we could see," Crump said. The robber is described as being a white man of unknown age and weighing about 180 pounds. He wore a dark ski mask with holes for eyes and mouth, a dark hooded sweat shirt, gray pants and dirty white tennis shoes. Anyone with information is asked to call the Cynthiana Police Department at 234-7100. Crump said in addition to the security video, there were also witnesses outside. No one was inside the store except the clerk and the gunman.

Accused in 11-year-old murder case to be in Nicholas court Monday

By JOSH SHEPHERD, News Writer
A pre-trial conference has been scheduled for Monday morning for a Cynthiana man facing charges in connection with an 11-year-old murder case in Carlisle. Shawn L. Fryman, 36, is facing charges of murder and complicity to commit robbery in connection with the shooting death of David Sadler on March 31, 2003. Sadler was found dead inside his Nicholas County home, the victim of a single gunshot wound to the head. Based on new information Kentucky State Police received in the investigation, Fryman, originally from Carlisle, was arrested Wednesday morning February 26, 2014 and charged with one count of murder.

Soon after Fryman's arrest, state police took Carlisle resident Joshua Abney into custody on March 3, 2014, charged with complicity to commit murder. Both maintained they were not guilty of the crime. However, on Wednesday, Sept. 17, in Nicholas County Circuit Court, Abney changed his plea to guilty on charges of facilitation to commit murder and complicity in a robbery. He was sentenced to 12 years — five for the murder and seven for the robbery charge, according to Nicholas County Circuit Court records. Fryman faces the same charges when he attends the pre-trial conference on Monday. As of press time, he has maintained his not guilty plea.

Bush family gets keys to new Cynthiana-Harrison County Housing Assistance home

By BECKY BARNES, Editor
It's been a long time coming, but Jennifer Bush is satisfied that the wait was justified. An ecstatic Bush and her three sons moved into their new home last weekend after putting in hundreds of hours to see its completion. Bush said it all began in late 2011. She was approached during Sunday School at Cynthiana Baptist Church about applying for a Cynthiana-Harrison County Home Assistance (CHCHA) project. Bush admitted that she had no idea what that meant or even how she could qualify. As a single mother, who worked full time and was a full time student, Bush's chances looked promising. Add to that her record of paying her bills on time and she was pretty much a prime candidate. In November 2011, Bush was notified that she had qualified and that a new structure on Elmarch Avenue would be hers. Not a gift, but an opportunity to own her own home. "Never did I imagine I'd get it," she said.

The Bush family -- Jennifer, Brenden, Brentton and JaCory -- receive the keys to their new home from board and volunteers Greg Bolin, Dwayne Florence, Connie Copes and Mike Roberts.

House

From HOUSE, front page

Bush still has a mortgage with a payment more than the rent she was paying, but the home will be hers in the end.

The benefit of receiving the CHCHA home is that the 20-year mortgage is interest free.

Another requirement for Bush to be a new homeowner is that she had to pitch in.

Construction began in February 2012 with volunteers, who Bush said put in so many hours and did so much, she can't even recall everything that was done.

Journey Church was instrumental in getting volunteers lined up for work days as well as having members volunteer.

Bush worked beside volunteers. According to CHCHA stipulations, she was required to put in 300 hours of sweat equity.

"I worked way more than that," she said, noting that if work was being done on her home, she wanted to be there, too.

Bush came to Harrison County 12 years ago to take care of her grandmother, who passed away about five years ago.

Bush was at a turning point in her life when the Harrison County Home Assistance opportunity was presented.

Her mother came with her to Harrison County, but she died in January before she could see her daughter's new home.

"I was just praying to God to help me figure out where to go," she said. "When I got the news, I was in tears and I knew my prayers had been answered."

The house, located at 129 N. Elmarsh Ave., is three bedrooms, two baths with an open living room/kitchen area.

Bush said she was able to pick out everything for the home, from the fixtures to the paint.

She painted the interior herself.

She works full time at Subway at Harrison Square and carries nine credit hours at Maysville Community and Technical College/Licking Valley Campus. She is studying to be a respiratory therapist.

Bush and her boys moved into their new home last week with assistance from some of the volunteers who helped construct the home.

Her boys are Brenden, 12, a seventh grade student at Harrison County Middle School; Brentton, 10, a fifth grade student at Eastside Elementary; and JaCory, 5, a kindergarten student at Eastside.

Bush was very grateful to all those who have volunteered from the beginning of the construction to helping move her and the boys to their new home.

The Harrison County Home Assistance program was born after Habitat for Humanity wanted the Cynthiana chapter to join with Georgetown's.

The local board agreed that they wanted to keep their projects in Harrison County.

CHCHA is always looking for lots on which to build and volunteers. Applications for homes are taken during specific periods.

A few quiet words in memory of Bro. Jim

The Lord said, “Go out and stand on the mountain in the presence of the Lord, for the Lord is about to pass by.”
Then a great and powerful wind tore the mountains apart and shattered the rocks before the Lord, but the Lord was not in the wind. After the wind there was an earthquake, but the Lord was not in the earthquake.
After the earthquake came a fire, but the Lord was not in the fire. And after the fire came a gentle whisper — 1 Kings 19: 11-12

I find myself trapped in a bit of an irony. As most people in this area are aware, Bro. Jim Gaunce went to be with the Lord almost two weeks ago. I consider myself fortunate to have known him, worshipped with him and to have participated in his lay ministry on occasion. I don’t often volunteer to wake before 6 a.m. on a Saturday morning, but I did it for Bro. Gaunce when he asked “Soldiers of the Cross” to perform on his morning worship program a few years ago. Hearing him speak, whether it was on the radio, presiding over a person’s funeral or in prayer group before a revival, I was always struck by his gentle manner and the softness of his voice. Yet there was no denying that behind that mellow timbre was a powerful testimony of a life lived within the blessings of Jesus Christ. I am equally certain that Bro. Gaunce brought more reluctant and stubborn souls to second birth than many evangelicals and ordained ministers can claim.

Josh Shepherd
 News Writer

By any worldly measure, Bro. Gaunce’s passing from this Earth deserves a full page obituary and a multi-pastor eulogy to rival a camp meeting revival sermon. But there lies the irony. While his long time lay ministry merits such praise, I know that Bro. Gaunce would never have approved of such a gaudy display. True to his faith and beliefs, his ministry never drew attention to himself. He understood, probably better than anyone I ever knew, that ministry was not about him. He was merely a voice carrying God’s message to whomever would listen. I was unable to attend his memorial service at Saltwell United Methodist Church, but my parents, Jim and Lynn Shepherd of Georgetown, were there for the visitation. Soon afterward, my father called to tell me about the service. As expected, the visitation was attended by hundreds — probably more than that country church has seen at one time in the last two years. (Perhaps not. I would love to be corrected if I am wrong.) But the aspect of the service that was most striking to my father was the stillness and peace that had settled so comfortably over the Saltwell community, even as it welcomed so many new visitors to the service. The peace my father described caused me to think of the scripture I cited at the beginning of the article. There are so many lessons to take from Bro. Gaunce’s ministry and life, but a key one, I think, is the manner in which it was given. Not with flash or bombast, which like so much of the world’s sound and noise, adds up to little or nothing. Heed, instead, the still quiet voice that has always called us — and calls us still...

Pie slice a special act of kindness
 To the editor:
 Yesterday afternoon my social worker brought me a big piece of coconut cream pie from Paula’s Resturant. It was so good and I had wanted it so bad. I have cancer for the fourth time and taking chemo again. The Lord willing I’ll be alright. Paula wouldn’t let Mrs. Herrington pay for the pie. She is one special person. I will always praise her for her kindness. Thank you Paula.

Community needs to support the high school band
 To the editor:

First and foremost, I want to thank you for the coverage that the Cynthiana Democrat has given the HCHS Marching Band this season. As a band parent I get to see firsthand the hard work and dedication that these kids put forth. Unfortunately, it is so disheartening to see the lack of support from the community. I attended the band competition in Bellevue on September 20th and watched this band walk away with Grand Champion, their hard work work and efforts paying off. I expected to see signs of support all throughout the community. Harrison County is small enough that we can all rally together and support the achievements of our students. I was saddened when I came through last Monday morning and saw that the marquee at the high school didn’t have a congratulatory note to the band students. I phoned and questioned this and informed the office secretary that I felt there should have been some note of congratulations to greet these kids when they arrived to school Monday morning. By the afternoon, I was glad to see that there was a note of congratulations to the HCHS band on their win. I encourage the rest of the community to take note and repeat these actions. Rite-Aid in Cynthiana has a note of congratulations to the band in their store. If they can recognize hometown students in their national corporate store, then I feel that our locally owned stores and businesses can do the same. I also encourage everyone to congratulate a band student the next time you see him or her. The band will also be attending KMEA regionals on October 25th in Bourbon County. This is close enough that our community can attend and support the band program. I am so proud of each and everyone that is a part of the HCHS band. Congratulations on an awesome season so far and good luck at Grant County this weekend. Go Band!

Reader supports Brunner for Mayor
 To the editor:
 I’d like to support Gary Brunner for Cynthiana’s next Mayor. Gary has over 20 years of experience in government at the local and state level. His work experience in policy creation, leadership development and training make him the right candidate to lead Cynthiana. Cynthiana is in need of revitalization. This includes jobs creation, training and development of government staff and officials and an expansion of art programs! Because Gary has an extensive background of personnel development and strategic planning, he’s the right candidate to implement these changes. Gary has shown his commitment to the city of Cynthiana by serving as a City Commissioner in different capacities. He’s already familiar with the layout of the city, its processes and procedures. He’s also involved in the city with different civic and community organizations. Gary brings fresh ideas to the table and is ready to move Cynthiana forward in 2015. When you go to the polls in November, elect Gary Brunner as Cynthiana’s next Mayor.

Reader supports James Smith
 To the editor:
 I am a young person in Cynthiana. I graduated from high school a few years ago and I am very concerned about Cynthiana’s future. It seems downtown is dying and jobs are hard to find. Most of the talented, hard-working young people leave and never come back. I would love to stay here in Cynthiana and raise a family. The pace and friendliness of small town America is appealing. But there are few opportunities for young people here. If we don’t change the direction that we are heading, I fear for the future of the town. That’s why I want to ask you to vote for James Smith for mayor. James is one of the owners of the Rohs Opera House. I’ve watched him and his friends at the theater transform that place and bring life back to downtown. I’ve seen what his leadership of the local Chamber has done. I’ve seen him working tirelessly to turn-around Cynthiana. Talk to James and you will see he has so much vision for Cynthiana. He has ideas to bring business to downtown and jobs to our community. As a young person, he has the ability to inspire me to want to stay and make our city a better place. Nothing against our current leaders, but we need a change. I’ve always heard that insanity is doing the same thing over and expecting a different result. Let’s elect a mayor with some business experience and that has new ideas. We need James as our mayor.

Fryman is strong, yet fair
 To the editor:
 I have worked in 100’s of legal cases over my career, and in my opinion it takes a combination of several traits to be a successful, respected judge. A judge must be able to hear both sides of an argument fairly, have the background and knowledge to know the laws in both criminal and civil statutes, not lose their temper, and be willing to be decisive once the facts are known. Heather Fryman has both the background and the personality to be strong yet fair on the bench. Although she is soft spoken she is nobody’s fool. Heather recognizes the difference between truth and someone lying to get their way. She will hear both sides and not hesitate to rule on cases that come into her courtroom. I have the utmost confidence in Heather that she will give people appearing in family court a full hearing and judge their cases in a timely manner so they can move on with their lives. Please support her in the election November 4.

Arnold able to see both sides
 To the editor:
 As election day approaches, we would like to ask all registered voters in the 18th district to vote for Sam Arnold for Family Court Judge. Sam, in our opinion, is a very knowledgeable and caring lawyer with over 40 years of experience. Because of his experience, he will be able to see both sides of every issue and will be able to judge them fairly. Sam has worked in the 18th Judicial District all of his life and knows what is best for our communities. His years of observations and decision making have provided him the ability to understand the issues of families in crisis and to resolve the problems in a compassionate and timely manner. Having know Sam Arnold for many years and having used his legal expertise, we are confident he would make an excellent Family Court Judge. In closing, we would like to urge all of our family, friends and former patients to vote for Sam Arnold.

Reader urges re-election of Slade as City Commissioner
 To the editor:
 This election year, please consider the re-election of Roger Slade for City Commissioner. He has the experience, as he’s been commissioner for several years. He has put blood, sweat and tears into our little town, and is one of the hardest working people for our community that I know. As co-owner of Rohs Opera House, one of the few continuously operating businesses downtown, he has the knowledge to help guide our town to the change it needs. He is always open to new ideas, and brainstorming ways to make our town a better place to live and visit. He is dependable, approachable and an all around great guy and representative of our city. There is not a city event that Roger hasn’t had a hand in. When we decided to have Community Water Day, his first words were not “do you think its really a good idea?” But “How can I help? What can I do?” He spent hours in his busy schedule to help us create something new for the community, and he was right there until the very end helping get it done. He is one who would do anything to help improve, to make changes for the better and to leave this town a better place for our children and their children. With Roger and James Smith in office, I know our community would have nowhere to go but up and it is an exciting and wonderful idea. Great things are in the air! Be a part of making our community strive towards a new future, vote for Roger Slade as City Commissioner.

County resident endorses Smith
 To the editor:
 I live in Harrison County but I am writing to encourage people to vote for James Smith for mayor of Cynthiana. James is deeply involved in Cynthiana - as a business owner he has the unique ability to want to preserve and honor the past; as a leader, he seeks new ideas and ways to move the community forward. James Smith, as an owner of Rohs Opera House, is preserving and making use of an important cultural asset that promises to be a part of the community’s artistic future for years to come. As head of the Chamber of Commerce he is leading our business community forward. And as our mayor he will challenge us to move forward - to develop our potential as a tourism destination by establishing a Tourism Commission, to encourage businesses to move to Cynthiana by reducing taxes and fees, and to improve the downtown’s appearance. James knows, as do we all, that change must come to our community if we are to be a community with a bright future. James Smith has vision, passion, and the ability to lead this community forward. I encourage you to vote for James Smith this November.

DUI charge result of single-vehicle crash Friday

By JOSH SHEPHERD, NEWS WRITER

A Harrison County man was arrested and charged with driving while intoxicated after surviving an horrific single-vehicle accident on U.S. 27 North Friday afternoon.

At about 2 p.m., Harrison County emergency dispatch received calls about the accident from several witnesses, all of whom reported that the driver, Corey Kinser, 31, was staggering around the scene.

Bystanders reported that the driver appeared either injured or impaired.

Ambulance and emergency personnel, including Harrison County Sheriff Shain Stephens and Chief Deputy Paul Olin, arrived at the scene about nine miles outside the city limits.

According to Olin's accident and arrest reports, Kinser displayed signs of intoxication and admitted to officers that he had taken prescription medication earlier that day.

Kinser said that he was driving north on U.S. 27 from downtown Cynthiana and claimed the wreck was caused when he took evasive action to avoid hitting a deer. An investigation of the crash site, however, showed no evidence, such as skid marks or tire tracks, that supported Kinser's story, Olin commented.

The white Ford Explorer Kinser was driving was 15 feet down a steep wooded embankment. The passenger side of the SUV was smashed against several trees with the outer panels ripped away exposing the engine.

In the meantime, Olin reported that he had to provide Kinser support while responding to Stephens' questions.

Kinser refused medical treatment and, according to the report, he displayed no signs of injury that demanded emergency medical attention.

Following the interview, Kinser was arrested on DUI charges and taken to the Harrison County Sheriff's Department. He was later transported to the Bourbon County Detention Center.

Evidence further suggested that Kinser was allegedly driving without insurance coverage, which was added to the list of charges against him.

Thriller

the parade will become a popular addition to Cynthiana's growing list of annual Halloween events.

"I've taken my family to the Thriller parade in Georgetown for several years. It's fun and it attracts people from all over the area. I've always thought it would be perfect for downtown Cynthiana," Morris said.

Judging from the early and enthusiastic response she has received from community members, the fever is already spreading.

Morris said that she has commitments from the Cyn City Dancers and Cynthiana Jazzercise as parade participants. But the Rotary would love to see many people from the community dance in the parade line as well.

Therefore, on the first three Monday evenings in October, Rotary is hosting "Thriller" dance lessons from 6 - 7 p.m. at Flat Run Veterans Park.

Those planning to participate in the "Thriller" parade are asked to attend at least two of the three practice sessions, Morris said.

"The parade is open to everyone, young and old. The practice sessions are just so that everyone knows the basic moves and the parade looks like we're all together," Morris explained.

The Halloween event will be located around the Harrison County courthouse. It will start at 6 p.m. and feature dance contests for prizes, concessions and music from "DJ Zom-B," Morris said.

The zombies will emerge about 8 p.m. for the parade. Organizers plan on having several people designated as "Michael Jackson's" to lead the parade.

"We think it might be fun to feature Michael Jackson at various ages," Morris added.

Because the parade is considered a family event, the Rotary asked that dancers consider that the audience will have small children and not make the zombie make-up too realistic or graphic.

"We want everyone to have a good time and not have youngsters trying to climb up daddy's leg to get away from something scary," she said.

So this Halloween, a special treat. Surrender yourself to the '80s beat. Look for brains out in the street. For no mere mortal can defeat The lure of the "Thriller."

Tax incentives available for improvements to historic homes, businesses

By JOSH SHEPHERD, News Writer

Any individual or business in Cynthiana's historic district who has invested in major structural improvements to their home or office in the last two years should contact the Cynthiana Main Street program office.

"You may qualify for a big break on your annual taxes," said Main Street program director Emily Ammerman.

Among the many services the Main Street Program offers to residential and local business owners is assistance with the lengthy application process for the Kentucky Historic Preservation Tax Credit, Ammerman said.

Several people have already taken advantage of the tax credit, she said. The Harrison County Fiscal Court, for example, qualified for over $100,000 in tax credits when it worked with the Kentucky Heritage Council to preserve historic features of the courthouse in its ongoing renovation project. Though unable to use them itself, the court was able to recoup some of the renovation costs by selling the credits to a local business.

"A tax credit lowers the amount of taxes owed by an individual or business," Ammerman explained.

Homeowners can potentially qualify for tax credits of up to 30 percent for their rehabilitation expenses.

Commercial or industrial

buildings undergoing renovation that also preserves the site's historic integrity can earn up to 20 percent of their costs in tax credits, Ammerman said.

There are stipulations that need to be met in order for individuals to qualify for these tax incentives, she said. It is in this area that the Main Street Program can be of greatest assistance.

"The process takes time and the renovation work has to meet specific standards," Ammerman explained.

The basic criteria is that the property in question must either be listed on the National Register of Historic Places or located within an historic district, like downtown Cynthiana.

Structures located along Main Street, between Bridge Street and Pleasant Street, and along Pike Street from Main Street to Church are within the downtown historic district.

Residences outside these boundaries may also qualify if they are on the national register. The Main Street program maintains a list of properties in Cynthiana that are on the national register, Ammerman said.

"If you find your home is not on the register, I can help homeowners apply for inclusion on the list," she added.

But with regard to the tax incentives program, Ammerman said that the critical factor is that home improvement projects preserve the building's historic integrity.

However, the officials that approve applications for the tax credit recognize that buildings need to install new plumbing, replace worn and obsolete electrical systems, invest in reliable climate control systems and make improvements to upgrade modern technology or make buildings accessible to the handicapped, she said.

Since these improvements add life to a building and often have little impact on the historic integrity of the home, they are often the easiest investments with which people can qualify for tax credits, Ammerman said.

The grey areas are when major structural changes have occurred, she said.

"People should never assume that they won't qualify for the program. Cynthiana Main Street will do what it can to help people get the tax breaks they deserve for preserving our history," Ammerman said.

Applying for the historic preservation tax credit is a three part process involving two applications and a detailed description of the rehabilitation, or renovation, project that an individual has already done or plans to do, she said. "People who take on the job of applying for an historic preservation tax credit can get frustrated working alone. The application asks for a lot of detailed information and it can be an unnecessary burden, especially for someone already dealing with builders and contractors. Cynthiana Main Street can take care of the entire application process and spare people the headache," Ammerman said.

Home and business owners who are serious about preserving the historic beauty of their buildings, but would appreciate that tax break are advised to contact Cynthiana Main Street before making plans.

"The Main Street program can help people get the most value from their historic property. I have contact information for experts who can advise individuals about the best way to add improvements to their historic buildings or homes, breathe new life into antique fixtures and control costs," Ammerman said. "And my services are available at little to no cost at all."

For more information about the Kentucky tax credit and its qualifications can contact Emily Ammerman at the Cynthiana Main Street office by phone at 859-234-7165 or email her at cynmainstreet@gmail.com.

And the winner by a nose, Kentucky newspapers!

Everybody knows that horse racing and Kentucky go together like peanut butter and jelly. Since 1875, the "Run for the Roses" has been an American tradition. On average, 150,000 people attend the festivities each May and another 1.43 million Kentuckians watch on TV. That's quite an audience! But did you know, the number of Kentuckians who read a newspaper this week beats the derby audience by a nose. Yep, 1.58 million adults read a Kentucky newspaper in print or online in the past week.

If you're a Kentucky newspaper reader, you're leading the pack! And if you're a Kentucky advertiser, remember that our state's newspapers bring it big down the stretch.

Living

Nighthawks migrating south

It was late summer in 2005 when I experienced nighthawks for the first time. In fact, it was the only time I had seen them peppering the sky until last weekend.

On both occasions it was late afternoon, but this year the sky was bright so we watched the nighthawks against a clear blue back ground as they moved about.

Since I had seen and identified the nighthawks back in 2005, I knew immediately what was in the sky as more then two dozen birds soared about in mesmerizing configurations.

They have a gleaming flight like our familiar swallows but they are quite a bit bigger. They seem like they belong on the ocean.

Could these infrequent sighting mean it is a rare spectacle?

Well, actually our flock of nighthawks is rather common, found nesting in every state of the nation, except Hawaii.

Late summer is time for the nighthawks to migrate south so this is when you have increased chances seeing them on their way back down to Argentina for the winter. If you don't pay attention you won't see them.

Looking at a picture of the common nighthawk in my bird book reveals a well-camouflaged clump of feathers, reminding me of the whip-poor-will that I loved as child because it was so easy to whistle its song.

The nighthawk and the whip-poor-will are in the same family of birds.

Typically, these insect-eaters are most active at twilight but on cloudy days they may head out a bit earlier in the day.

Apparently on dull days their flight is more animated, likely because they may be in flight all day for their travels south.

The nighthawk is either in flight or at rest somewhere, it is not a busybody bird. They have weak feet that are set rather far back on its body so they are a little top-heavy.

It is difficult for them to perch on wires like other birds so we will usually see them sitting on the ground, on a fence post or a large limb where they will rest lengthwise. Basically, for the nighthawk it is best to stay in flight or find a nice wide place to rest.

They traditionally found their nesting sites in flat open fields or bare ground (this is why they are so well camouflaged at rest).

They literally just deposit their two eggs on the ground; no nest is actually constructed. Today they love flat roofs and urban areas where lighting systems bring in the insects in the evening.

Nighthawks are not true hawks; they survive exclusively on an insect diet. They are, in fact, the perfect insect-eating machines in flight.

They flutter, speed up, swoop and dive in a constant fluid motion.

It truly was mesmerizing watching them all in the sky that late afternoon.

Their wingspan is about 22-24 inches and from the ground they are dark birds with a conspicuous white mark on the underside of their wings ... this helped us identify them easily.

They have large eyes, small bills and very large mouths that have whiskers on the edges. In flight with mouth wide open they catch more insects on average than any other bird.

They will fly 600 feet high and swoop vertically to the ground during courtship.

The male, in his most-amazing vertical dive, will make a popping noise that is reminiscent of a quiet sonic boom.

Since flat rooftops are the nesting site of choice for nighthawks these days, this may be something urban dwellers may want to watch for in late spring and early summer during courtship; or in late summer on a dull day as they head south for the winter.

Perraut hosts September meeting, Ross presents program

Falmouth Road Homemakers

The Falmouth Road Homemakers met Sept. 3 at the home of Pat Perraut with the lesson on gardening given by Phyllos Ross. The Falmouth Road Homemaker group is one of the original homemaker groups in Harrison County.

The club currently has 16 members and meet on the first Wednesday of every month from September through May. Those interested in attending a homemaker group are always welcome. You can speak with a current member of the homemaker group to find out the next meeting place and enjoy a day filled with laughter, fun, food, and education.

If your work or life commitments prevent you from attending a meeting in person, you can still receive a monthly newsletter and lesson via the mail by becoming a mail box member. Contact the Harrison County Extension Office at 234-5510 for further details on our homemaker group as well as the others in Harrison County to learn meeting times or how to become a mailbox member.

This past year has been a real delight for the Falmouth Road Homemaker club. Along with other homemaker groups, they assisted at the Harrison County Fair with food for the various events taking place as well as helping with fair entries of baked goods, canned goods, flowers, and homemade items.

Additionally, members will be participating in the annual Recipe for Life reading program in late October, early November. This is a chance for area fifth graders to learn some simple yet healthy meals they can prepare at home. This event is a delight for the fifth graders as well as the volunteer homemakers. All those who came out for Homemaker Community Day can appreciate the hard work that went into the various baked goods for sale as well as the starts of beautiful flowers from individual homemaker gardens.

This year's lessons will be: Let's Have a Spa Day, Vitamins and Supplements, Preparing for later life, Super Foods for a Super You, Managing Creepy Crawlies, Short and Sweet, and Home Energy Management.

A typical meeting day is comprised of discussing local opportunities for volunteering and artisan events, prayer, and a potluck style meal followed by a lesson. Intermixed among these is time to fellowship and laugh. Each month between September and May, a fellow homemaker is hostess to her group with another homemaker providing the lesson for the month.

The homemakers would love to have you become a part of a wonderful group of ladies and gentlemen who give back to the Harrison County community. Check out what the homemakers are doing on their Facebook page: Harrison County Homemakers. Check us out, like us, and find out what the homemakers are up to and how your skills can help the community.

Columbia Gas of Kentucky upgrading meter reading technology

Columbia Gas of Kentucky is investing in new technology to improve the quality of the company's meter reading process by installing radio-based Automated Meter Reading (AMR) devices across the Cynthiana area.

Starting this week and continuing throughout the fall, Columbia Gas of Kentucky will be installing approximately 1,600 devices to residential and commercial meters in the Cynthiana area. Postcards will be mailed to customers approximately 2-4 weeks ahead of installation at their location.

Over 91,400 customers have already had AMR devices successfully installed.

"The installation process takes about 20 minutes or less and, in most cases, does not require the technician to enter the home or business," said Columbia Gas of Kentucky President Herbert A. Miller Jr.

The installations will be performed by either Columbia Gas of Kentucky employees or employees of the company's contractor, TruCheck. Employees from both companies carry photo identification, wear uniforms and drive marked vehicles.

The AMR devices that Columbia Gas will deploy are not "smart (meter) technologies" as used in the electric utility industry. The device is a simple digital reading of the mechanical meter register.

Only the customer's meter reading data is communicated between the in-vehicle collection devices and the AMR device. The AMR device is powered by its own long-term battery that does not draw any current from any customer's electrical system.

"AMR devices will help provide a higher level of customer service through more accurate reading and billing, and reduce the risk of injury for meter readers," Miller said.

Walker begins her degree at MCTC/LVC

Melinda Walker, MCTC assistant professor of psychology, teaches general, developmental, and abnormal psychology classes online and in person at the Licking Valley Campus and the Donald W. Kiser-Paris Extension.

Walker is originally from Carlisle and graduated from Nicholas County High School in 1996. She began her college education at Maysville Community and Technical College/Licking Valley Campus and then transferred to Morehead State University. She received a Bachelor's in Psychology. Then, she went on to complete her master's at MSU in Clinical Psychology.

MELINDA WALKER

Walker worked as a mental health therapist for Pathways in Bath County for four years and taught part time.

When her husband, Kevin, was deployed to Afghanistan, she felt that teaching was a better fit for taking care of her family.

"I realized how much I loved teaching," said Walker. "I can introduce students to something I'm really passionate about and give them a different perspective."

Besides being an instructor, Walker is a faculty advisor for the student ambassadors. This is a student organization that helps students develop as leaders with professional service skills.

She serves on several internal committees for the college.

She develops the class schedule in Paris and assists with academic issues.

Also, Walker intends to start an on campus NAMI (National Alliance on Mental Illness) group. This will be the first NAMI group at a community college.

Walker lives in Georgetown with her husband and their two children, Lauren, 9, and Cameron, 11.

For more information about the Licking Valley Campus, stop by the Hilltop or call 859-234-8626 extension 66400.

Dual credit classes are available at MCTC/LVC

Dual Credit classes are one of the many educational opportunities available on the hilltop.

This means that high school juniors and seniors may take classes through Maysville Community and Technical College/Licking Valley Campus.

Dual credit classes are an advantage to students because they may take the class for high school graduation and earn hours toward a college degree.

This opportunity also allows students to jump start their college education at a reduced tuition rate. Dual credit classes are 50 percent off regular tuition rate. Currently, a three-hour credit course is $453. For a high school student, the fee is significantly reduced to $226.50.

As of now, there are also scholarships available at the Licking Valley Campus. These scholarships are for high school students who take up to six credit hours in college courses.

Over 25 Harrison County juniors and seniors received scholarships for this semester.

As long as students meet the prerequisites for the course, they may enroll.

High school students may take up to six credit hours. This is typically two classes per semester and may be day, evening, or online classes.

"With the growing cost of post-secondary education, this is an exceptional opportunity for students to get a jump start on their college career and save money at the same time," said Lauren Mattox, MCTC/LVC admissions.

For more information or to take advantage of this opportunity, talk to your high school counselor or call Mattox, 859-234-8626 extension 66436.

MCTC first Kentucky community college to begin a NAMI on Campus organization

The student organization NAMI On Campus, is a branch of the National Alliance of Mental Illness.

This semester, Maysville Community and Technical College will be the first community college campus to begin a NAMI on Campus organization. The group is having its inaugural meeting this semester.

There is only one other NAMI on Campus organization in Kentucky and it is on the U.K. campus.

The mission of NAMI On Campus MCTC is to:

1. Educate and increase awareness of mental health issues for students, faculty, and staff of MCTC.

2. Provide information and resources concerning mental health needs to the college community.

3. Develop and support activities that will combat the stigma attached to mental health issues and services.

4. Serve as a supportive group to students to improve retention and ensure academic success.

Walker, MCTC assistant professor of psychology, will be the faculty advisor for the organization.

MCTC student officers are: JoLyn England, president; Paula Blades, vice president; Courtney Gasset, secretary; Aimee Williams, treasurer.

The first official meeting took place on Tuesday, Sept. 30, at the Licking Valley Campus.

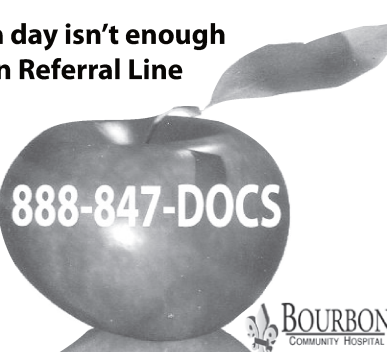

"This is an exciting and important time for our students and our college as a whole," Walker said.

Who needs a Refuge?

I know for me as a young girl in middle school and high school, I tried to find my comfort in things and people.

I put my hope in guys and thought that they would make me feel safe, happy, wanted and loved. What I found was that they didn't and couldn't fill the gaping hole in my heart.

REFUGE FOR WOMEN

Until I put my hope and trust in God, and found my identity in Him, nothing could fill the empty hole in my heart.

Now as an adult and involved with the Refuge for Women ministry, I see the same pattern in the women we serve when they come into the program.

They love this scripture; "The Lord is my rock, my fortress and my deliverer; my God is my rock, in whom I take refuge, my shield and the horn of my salvation, my stronghold." Psalm 18:2.

These women have lived in a dark world filled with physical and sexual abuse, addiction of all kinds and that was their normal before coming to the Refuge program.

They learned how to survive in that world. As they go through the Refuge program and begin to heal and learn who God is and what He says about them.

They begin to see themselves through His eyes. Most of them fall in love with their Abba Father.

Our God is mighty to save us from all kinds of sin. He's our Rock, Fortress and Deliverer.

There is no sin too big that our Mighty God won't forgive and rescue us from. God is our Refuge, our shield and the horn of our salvation, our strong-hold.

Ask yourself, what area in your life do you need God to show up and be your Rock, Fortress and Deliverer?

Have you invited Him to come into those areas of your life like; drug or alcohol abuse, sexual promiscuity, porn addiction, eating disorder or bodily harm?

Do you think He's a big enough God to rescue you from your enemy? Will you find your refuge in God alone? Or will you seek refuge from "things" and "people"?

I pray that you can find your comfort and hope in God alone. I thank God every day that He is my rock, my fortress and my deliverer.

This life can be very difficult and painful at times and I can't get through it without Him being my strong tower. I am grateful that I find my refuge in God alone.

Nothing I am going through is too big for Him. I believe this line from an old hymn; "On Christ the solid Rock I stand, all other ground is sinking sand."

From 'limo' to 'lightning'

Editor's note: Nancy Kennedy is on vacation this week. Her husband requested this column from 2004 about his 1968 Ford Falcon station wagon be rerun. He still misses that car. Nancy doesn't.

GRACE NOTES

Although a brand new Ford F-150 "Lightning" pickup truck tops my husband's list of dream vehicles, his eyes still mist whenever anyone mentions 'the limo.'

Back when we lived in California, Barry had decided we needed a second car. At the time, we shared a 1981 silver Ford Fairmont, which was perfect for driving people around. However, Barry had decided we needed something we could use for hauling water heaters to the dump.

Not that we had ever needed to haul water heaters to the dump, but, to quote one of my husband's favorite phrases, 'you never know.'

So, he brought home a 1968 Ford Falcon station wagon, or as I like to describe it, a 22-year-old, rumbling, clattering, smoking bucket of tin and rust, the color reminiscent of Cream of Wheat mixed with mashed lima beans and putty. And that's being generous.

Until then, I had had no reason to doubt my husband's judgment. However, when he reached through the back window (which was permanently stuck in the down position), grabbed a clean rag and began to shine one of the car's few rust-free spots, as he beamed like a proud father with his newborn child, I started to question his mental faculties.

That's when our youngest daughter, who was about six at the time, announced, "Dad, you got a limo."

Obviously, she had meant to say "lemon," which was a whole lot closer to the truth. Still, the name stuck.

Barry had fallen in love with his "limo" from the start. He washed it faithfully with scouring powder and bleach. He installed a radio antenna and connected it to a portable radio with alligator clips and aluminum foil. He super-glued a digital clock onto the dashboard and rigged up a push-button horn.

He didn't even seem to mind the protruding spring that kept ripping the backs of his shirts or having to straddle the sagging front seat to see over the steering wheel. He drove the limo everywhere, cheerfully, proudly. Obliviously.

People pointed at it and laughed. Dogs chased it and barked. Our daughters hid their faces in embarrassment. I just shook my head in amazed and amused horror.

Why would an otherwise reasonably sane man show so much devotion and spend so much time caring for a hunk of junk?

When he bought it for $200, it had nearly 200,000 miles on it. He drove it for about three years, which included two dozen 100-mile trips to San Francisco and back -- and several trips to the dump, hauling water heaters.

During that time, our newer car went through several starters, a radiator and a set of tires; meanwhile, the limo needed only an occasional air filter. The radio gave out before the limo did!

Eventually, Barry sold it for $400 -- twice what he had paid for it.

It was a sad day at the Kennedy house as we watched the new owners drive away. Even the girls and I felt a twinge of sorrow. Barry had loved that ugly car.

I'm not sure why I'm telling you all this except that it's a favorite story in our family. Also, thinking about the limo reminds me of how sometimes people think of themselves as beaten up, ugly and junky. Not much more than a pile of rust held together by bolts and duct tape.

But God doesn't see those who belong to him that way.

I take that back. Actually, he does see us that way, just as we are. The Bible says God remembers that 'we are but dust.' However, if Christ has redeemed us, if we are his, that makes all the difference.

Because we're his, he doesn't leave us as we are, all beaten up and junky. But he doesn't merely patch us together and add a few makeshift improvements using alligator clips and aluminum foil.

That's because he's not about "making do," or even making us better. Instead, God is out to make us new.

In a way, it's like taking a "limo" and turning it into a "Lightning."

Fillies rebound from loss to Brossart, defeat Fleming County Tuesday

By Mike Aldridge, Sports Writer

The Harrison County volleyball Fillies were not overmatched last Thursday night when they played host to the Lady Mustangs of Bishop Brossart, losing in three sets.

The sets were each close as the Fillies battled the favored visitors 25-16, 25-18 and 25-18. Bishop Brossart improved to 10-8 with the win while the Fillies evened their record at 11-11.

On Tuesday evening, Harrison County traveled to Flemingsburg to face the Lady Panthers of Fleming County.

"We started really slow but played especially well down the stretch," said Coach Bill Faulkner. "We played well

Breds have two poor performances losing to Paris, Western Hills

By Mike Aldridge, Sports Writer

Harrison County's soccer Thorobreds lost last Thursday to Paris in the Athletic Complex in a game that Coach Nick Hill described as one where they "just went through the motions."

When the Thorobreds got caught watching the ball bounce in the penalty area, Paris took a 1-0 lead on a rebound shot off a Chris Ortiz stop. This gave the Greyhounds a 1-0 lead at the half.

After the halftime pep talk, the Thorobreds played better at the start of the second period but gave up a goal on a free kick outside the box, a penalty kick and a poorly placed drop pass to the Thorobreds goal keeper.

Harrison County did score two goals of their own in the second period.

Logan Wiley scored one on a penalty kick and Gus Garrison stuck one in the net from a Wiley assist for the final 4-2 Paris victory.

"It was a typical example of a team over looking the opposition," bemoaned Hill. "When one group takes another too lightly they can not give their best effort."

The win gives the Paris squad a 5-8 record for the year while the Thorobreds fall to 4-7-1.

Tuesday night was Senior Night for the Western Hills Wolverines (8-8) and the Thorobreds were perfect guests as they fell to the host school, 8-0.

"This was our poorest performance of the year considering the opposition," noted Coach Hill. "We made them look like all stars. We simply did not prepare ourselves for the game."

This loss leaves the Breds with a 4-8-1 record with the next match coming up on the Hilltop Thursday against St. Patrick.

The Saints have a 3-13 record for the year and the Thorobreds hope to get back on track in this match. This is a varsity match only which begins at 6 p.m.

Golfers end season in region tournaments

By Mike Aldridge, Sports Writer

The Harrison County Fillies golf team traveled to Maysville Monday to compete in the Eighth Region Tournament.

Scott County was the team winner with a team total of 334, followed by Mason County with 348.

The Fillies finished sixth of the nine schools competing with a total of 439.

Sarah Holland and Sarah Durbin led the Harrison County girls with 98 totals while Morgan Nelly shot 120, Anna Midden, 122, and Kenzi Jones, 136, for the Fillies team total.

The medalist was Sarah Fite of Mason County who shot a 76 for the 18 holes.

"We played pretty well," noted Coach Jason Crisp. "If Sarah Holland or Sarah Durbin would have four fewer strokes they would have qualified for the state tournament."

On Tuesday, the Thorobreds were in Grant County playing at Eagle Creek Country Club in their region tournament.

Harrison County finished fifth of the 15 teams in the tournament, which was won by Bourbon County with a team total 304. Mason County was runner up with 313 followed by Grant County, Newport Central Catholic and the Thorobreds.

Medalist for the tournament for the third straight year was Parker Harris of Highlands who shot a one under par 69.

The Harrison County individual scores were Jake Jones, 79, Will Hicks, 82, Peyton Browning, 83, Reese Asher and Anthony Vascotto, 89.

"I thought the kids played well," said Crisp. "Maybe left 10 strokes on the course. This was our best regional finish in several years and I am very proud of the guys. Since there are no seniors, I am very excited about the future."

The cut off point for qualifying for the state tournament was 72, which is just two over par. This is one of the toughest regions in the state.

Soccer Fillies win three of four, blank Pendleton County on Senior Night

By Mike Aldridge, Sports Writer

Monday night was Senior Night for the Harrison County Fillies soccer team. Five seniors were honored between the junior varsity and varsity contests in the Athletic Complex.

Kassidy Cook, Chelsea Ingram, Taylor Martin, Morgan Puckett and Hannah Thomas were recognized for their hard work and dedication throughout their careers with the Fillies soccer team.

The match saw the Fillies get back on the winning track after Saturday's 1-nil loss at Western Hills broke their four-game winning streak.

The task was thought to be additionally difficult since Pendleton County was a higher ranked team going into the match.

Harrison County did not waste any time in dispelling that thought as just six minutes into the match, Amelia Bolin chipped a ball over the heads of the defenders and the swift Kelby Gaunce had no trouble putting the ball into the back of the net for the first goal.

Only five minutes later, Bolin scored on an assist from Puckett to put the Fillies up 2-nil before the engine had cooled on the Lady Cats bus.

"It was exciting for the coaches to watch our players take the game into their own hands by thinking ahead and making adjustments," observed Coach Kevin Gaunce. The half ended with the Fillies on top 2-nil.

The Fillies' third goal came on a play in front of the Lady Cats net when Puckett outmaneuvered the goal keeper and put her errant pass right back past her for the score.

The final goal came on some nice team play as Lexi Fryman and Center Mid Laura Beth Ledford combined with some good passing to get the ball behind the defense to Gaunce.

Gaunce finished the job with her second goal for the final 4-nil verdict.

"Our center mids and forwards are really starting to understand the importance of accurate passing, combinations and timely runs," noted Gaunce. "Couple that with goal keeper Chelsea Ingram's allow-

Mike's Minute

He was a great man

Even though the Breds are 0-5 and face Highlands this week there were still some positive things that happened on the Hilltop Friday.

First though before I go into that, I want to congratulate Jerry Dawson on his hole in one Sunday.

I was surprised that this was Jerry's first hole in one since he is a good player and plays often. I saw on Facebook Sunday afternoon that Jerry made the shot and since I planned to play anyway made it to the Cynthiana Country Club in time for a free drink.

Friday before the football game with Williamsburg High School, members of the Harrison County Board of Education, David Case and Andy Dotson presented The Dr. Don Stephens family a plaque commemorating the late doctor's long service to the community and especially to the Harrison County School System. Sonia Stephens and three of their five children, Jane, Susan and Doug, along with long-time employees Jane Ann Burgess and my wife Patti Aldridge were brought to midfield and presented with the plaque. The plaque is like the one now on the

Mike Aldridge

Wall of Fame, which is near the concession stand on the northwest end of the Athletic Complex.

It is only slightly more than a year since Dr. Stephens left us though in many ways it seems like only yesterday.

Hardly a day goes by for my wife and I'm sure the family as well that something or someone doesn't remind her of some good thing the doctor did or said.

The impact that his death made on this community is still felt daily as many of his patients are not able to find care like they received from him and his staff.

I am sure that they refer to their visits to his office as the good old days. I know that I appreciated the short program and thank the board for their thoughtfulness.

One other note about Dr. Stephens' ceremony: Many of you probably do not know that Stephens graduated from Williamsburg High School, which was the Breds' opponent Friday night.

Williamsburg's radio station EZ Country 104.3 covers their football program with play-by-play man Stan Lovett and color commentator Rick Campbell. They were in the press box Friday night.

Lovett, who is in his mid 70s remembered Dr. Stephens from high school, though he said Stephens was a few grades ahead of him.

Lovett had some very kind words to say about the ceremony and Dr. Stephens as he broadcast the proceedings to Williamsburg.

It was a pleasure having the two Williamsburg announcers in the press box as they expressed many times how well they were treated and how nice the Athletic Complex was as a football facility.

It was really a change from the previous week when the announcers were -- let us say not quite as nice.

Not to belabor the point, but from my considerable high school football experience, Harrison County treats the officials and visiting press people very well and in some cases much better than they deserve.

Marshall named NFL fitness ambassador

Clif Marshall, performance director at Ignition Performance Group in Cincinnati, has signed a contract with the NFL to become the fitness ambassador for the NFL Up Program.

The NFL Up Program invites fans to get fit like their favorite player.

Marshall, who began working with the Bengals in 2005 and still continues with them as a consultant, will write weekly training articles on NFL.com, generate fitness tips, serve as a consultant in the creation of workout routines, and field fan questions on the NFL's social media outlets throughout the season.

Marshall's Ignition Athletics Performance group has trained more than 250 NFL players on the 32-league rosters since the company began in 2007.

Among his clients are top 10 draft picks, Super Bowl Champions and NFL MVP's including last year's Defensive Player of the Year Luke Kuechly of the Carolina Panthers.

Marshall also played a key role in the 2010 movie called "Late Rounder's," which followed the path of three University of Kentucky football players on their route to the NFL draft. Marshall's workout videos and training articles can be seen on Up NFL.com.

He is a 1999 graduate of Harrison County High School and a 2005 graduate of the University of Louisville. He holds a bachelor's degree in exercise science and a master's degree in physical education. He is married to the former Stacey Snopek of Cynthiana. The couple has a daughter, Mary Grace, and is expecting a son in late December.

Harrison County Cross Country competes in Berea Invitational

Members of the Harrison County High School cross country team and the Harrison County Middle School team ran in the Berea Invitational Saturday morning.

The HCMS teams had enough runners to compete for the team title with the girls coming in fifth and the boys sixth.

There were 67 girls in the middle school competition with Payton Doyle leading the Harrison County squad finishing 24th in 20:06. Bailey Thompson was only four spots behind Doyle in 20:39 followed by Morgan Cooper, Jaelyn Terhune and Sarah Halderman.

Thomas Morris ran the course in 19:03 to finish ing only one goal in the last three matches and this is the secret to success."

This win makes the season record for the Fillies 8-4-1 while Pendleton County falls to 9-5.

The Fillies junior varsity won the second of their last three matches defeating Pendleton County 4-1.

Mary Hollis Partin and Haley Fauste had a goal apiece while Reagan Gorman scored twice for the Fillies junior varsity.

Coach Gaunce also noted that the back line for the junior varsity, Sophia Hatterrick, MaKinlee Kellione, Charlie Moore, Lydia McNees and Abby Stroub, have been doing a tremendous job.

The busy week of play began on the Hilltop last Wednesday as the Paris Lady Hounds were the guests of the Fillies.

This was a methodical win for Harrison County as Gaunce scored with only two minutes gone in the match and Puckett scored less than two minutes later on a pass from Cook to make it 2-nil. The Fillies relaxed after taking the early lead and did not score again in the half. Harrison County scored the third and final goal in the second half on a pass from Cook to Gaunce for the final 3-nil score.

Paris' record dropped to 4-11 with the loss.

The Harrison County junior varsity swamped the Lady Hounds 6-1. Gorman scored four goals in this match with Sophia Hatterrick and Charlie Moore each scoring one.

The next night the Fillies traveled to Frankfort and defeated the Lady Panthers (1-8) 3-1 in a performance that did 40th in the 69-runner boys' race to lead Harrison County. Four spots behind Morris was Christopher O'Neal in 19:25 followed by Avery Whitaker, Larry Jones, Franky Jacobs III and Gannon Terhune.

The Harrison County Thorobreds runners competed with 112 runners with Daniel Craig finishing 60th in 20:53 and Shane Palmer just 30 seconds behind him. The girls' race had 83 runners with Abby Cooper leading the Fillies followed by Tamara Lunsford and Chelsea Bowman.

Coach Deanna Lunsford was proud of her team's effort.

"All of the runners really seemed to like the Berea course and ran hard," she noted.

not leave the coaches with a great feeling.

The match was tied at the half 1-1 but Harrison County righted the ship to score twice in the second half to take the win.

"We are still learning and growing as a team, commented Coach Gaunce. "We need to stop putting ourselves in unfavorable positions early in matches."

The Saturday match with Western Hills saw the Fillies playing short handed.

Senior speedster Hannah Thomas is out for the year with a knee injury and the Fillies also had to play without injured junior starter Taylor Landrum and defensive starter Marie Bowen.

This match, according to Gaunce, was a nerve wracking shot-for-shot affair with Western Hills coming out on top 1-0.

"This was a decent measuring stick to see how far we have come and what we need to improve on," noted Gaunce. "It was also a testament to this group's ability to work hard to try and overcome injuries and illness."

The win gives Western Hills an impressive 10-4 record.

The final two matches of the regular season will pit the Fillies against some very good competition.

On Wednesday they travel to Winchester to battle 12-3 George Rogers Clark who is on a four-game winning streak and the following Wednesday Franklin County will be on the Hilltop for the final regular season match for Harrison County.

Former Harrison County youth Minister Jon Sutphin is the coach of the 10-6 Lady Flyers.

Preparing to make a left turn, McGee made a signal to turn left and Angela Kearns, of Lake Road, traveling behind her, mistook the signal for permission to pass. They collided.

Sept. 19 -- At 7:40 a.m., a non-injury accident occurred on Ky. 32 West a bit less than five miles from the city limits. Donald Edwards of Ky. 32 West and Ann Thurman of Sadieville were passing each other on opposite sides of the road and clipped side mirrors.

Sept. 20 -- At 10:28 a.m., a non-injury accident occurred on U.S. 62 West about five miles west of the city limits. Tiffany Mitchell of Press Drive was westbound on U.S. 62 when a buzzard flew in front of her car. The bird struck a side mirror and knocked it off.

Sept. 26 -- At 11:50 a.m., a single vehicle accident happened on Ky. 1298 about seven miles from town. Travis Garnett of Paris, Kentucky, was traveling south with two passengers. He crested a hill in a curve where he met an oncoming truck. He swerved to miss the collision, over-corrected, and left the roadway. The car overturned at least once through a farm fence before coming to rest next to a pond.

Sept. 26 -- At 3:35 p.m., a non-injury accident occurred on U.S. 62 West approximately 10 miles east of the city limits. Jeffrey Hennig of Gray's Run Road was traveling west on the highway when he slowed to turn left. Harrison County Youth Celebrate National 4-H Week

October 5-11 is National 4-H Week and Harrison County is celebrating the 4-H youth who have made an impact on the community, and are stepping up to the challenges of a complex and changing world. The Kentucky 4-H Youth Development program is administered thru the University of Kentucky College of Agriculture which is the land grant college in Kentucky.

Findings from Tufts University's 4-H Study of Positive Youth Development indicate that young people in 4-H are three times more likely to contribute to their communities than youth not participating in 4-H. Notably, the Tufts research discovered that the structured learning, encouragement and adult mentoring that 4-H'ers receive play a vital role in helping them actively contribute to their communities.
